Richard Kelly, owner of Banner Pest Control began advertising with Valpak back in December 2017. Rick started with Valpak to raise awareness and to receive more business. When we asked Rick to tell us about his Valpak experience he said "I feel like I'm getting the word out by using Valpak. I received 3 great jobs so far and just renewed for the spring. I take full advantage of Valpak's on-line & tracking programs and I love how they can track the progress of each campaign." We then asked Rick how Valpak stacks up to other forms of advertising he is doing and if he would recommend Valpak to other business owns and he went on to say "I've done Community Values and Valpak definitely outperforms them. I would highly recommend Valpak as I really like that they have an association with Google. I love that Valpak App as well!"
