Catherine started to advertise with Valpak to help promote her RV and Golf Park. She was very skeptical given that she has tried other forms of advertising without much success. Catherine is very happy with the success she is seeing with her Valpak Program and when asked if she would recommend Valpak to other businesses she said "I'm picky about my advertising. I like the Valpak concept, seeing new people for the golf course. The ad is working out well. New people spend additional money in the restaurant after they finish golf."
